“We are thrilled at the number and quality of the entries,” states Jack Parquette, President of GerrityStone. “The judges indicated how difficult it was to pick just one kitchen in each category as each submission showcased such a transformation. What is most rewarding, though, is how each contestant emphasizes it is not just the stone that transforms their kitchen, but the GerrityStone experience. Needless to say, we are very excited this contest highlights our extraordinary products and most importantly, the exceptional customer service we provide to each and every customer.”
